

What Is Nonfiction?

Pat Miller

Not from imagination Non = not, F and I in fiction = from imagination

Types of Nonfiction

- Biography/Autobiography
- Science
- History

According to Melissa Stewart, author and speaker

- Life Story
- Survey Book
- Specialized Nonfiction
- Concept

Nonfiction Writing Styles

Narrative - Tells a true story with an arc—beginning, middle, end. Sometimes told in first person.

Expository - Explains or informs a reader about a topic.

Persuasive- Writer uses facts to support his or her own argument while trying to influence his readers' opinions.

Descriptive Sensory language, rich details, and figurative language are methods used to achieve good descriptive nonfiction.

Creative Nonfiction

Creative nonfiction merges the boundaries between literary art (fiction, poetry) and research nonfiction (statistical, fact-filled, journalistic). Composed of facts, but employs the same literary devices as fiction -- setting, voice/tone, character development, rich language, setting, etc.

Historical Fiction

The work is based in history, with specific historical details, but some or much of it is made up. It may be that some dialogue is created, or a created character has been inserted. Many historical fiction works include an author note to explain what part of it is true.

Creating Emotional Response

Nubs: The True Story of a Mutt, a Marine & and Miracle
(Nubs: The True Story of a Dog, a GI, and a Happy Day)

Nubs hung back, gaunt and weak from a deep wound in his side. Shivering from pain, Nubs allowed Brian and the team medic and to clean the wound and apply antiseptic ointment. But Nubs refused to eat or drink. It hurt so much, he tried to sleep standing up.

When Brian got up at 4 a.m. for his turn at watch, Nubs stiffly padded into place beside him. Head and tail drooping, he faithfully made the rounds with Brian.

[Brian has to leave in a large Humvee for the far Jordanian border.]

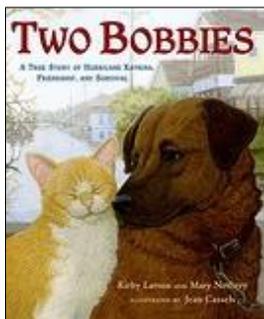

Nubs cried as he chased them across the cold, coarse sand. Because of his wound, he could not keep up. He dropped to the ground, exhausted and completely alone.

When Nubs sat up, Scout, Boss, and Chuck [names of the Humvees] were out of sight. He struggled to his feet and began walking.

Nubs trekked mile after treacherous mile across the desert, shivering through frozen days and nights. There was little to eat and even less to drink. Nubs pushed on.

Two snowy days and 70 miles later, Nubs limped into the Iraqi battalion headquarters, where Brian was working. When Nubs saw Brian, he ran with his tongue out and tail wagging, right into his arms.

Also recommended for examination: Two Bobbies: A True Story of Hurricane Katrina, Friendship, and Survival by Kirby Larson

“During Hurricane Katrina, evacuating New Orleans residents were forced to leave their pets behind. Bobbi the dog was initially chained to keep her safe, but after her owners failed to return, she had to break free. For months, Bobbi wandered the city's ravaged streets-dragging her chain behind her-followed by her feline companion, Bob Cat. After months of hunger and struggle, the Two Bobbies were finally rescued by a construction worker helping to rebuild the city. When he brought them to a shelter, volunteers made an amazing discovery about the devoted friends. Bob Cat was actually blind! He had survived the aftermath of the storm by following the sound Bobbi's chain made as she dragged it along the ground.”

Research Resources

Is there a book on my topic?

Before you begin your research, see what's already in print. Be especially mindful of the past five years. Is there room for another on the topic? Is your slant different enough to warrant publication?

www.worldcat.org - The world's largest library catalog and its services are free. 72,000 libraries Video Tutorial:

Where to begin?

- Public and academic libraries include monster databases that are free to users, often grouped by topics like biography and history, encyclopedias, health and medical, etc.
- JSTOR is available through academic libraries, and through consortiums with public libraries. Digitized content includes more than 2300 academic journals and thousands of monographs.
- Wikipedia—use with caution, check everything with another source, helpful because of the references at the bottom of each article.
- Information Please Almanac - www.infoplease.com

Search full-text reference books covering a wide range of information.

How can I find sources and primary documents?
How do I create my bibliography and track sources?

Easy Bib – www.easybib.com

Cite everything, from grave marker to photograph, interview to article, website to museum—even e-mails. Easier to keep track as you go along.

Archival Finding Aids at LOC - findingaids.loc.gov

Search the Library of Congress by general collection, Geography and Map, Recorded Sound, Moving Images, Manuscript, Rare Book, and more. Also search by date, name, subject, title, or thousands of specific collections.

How can I locate old newspapers?

- America – Library of Congress – www.chroniclingamerica.loc.gov America's newspapers from 1836-1922
- U.S. Newspaper Directory – LOC - chroniclingamerica.loc.gov/search/titles American, from 1690-present
- Newspaper Archive – newspaperarchive.com, back to the 1600's (fee)
- Your public library

Are there places I can visit for information?

- Historical societies and/or museums in the town or city of interest
Ex: Dolph Briscoe Center for American History, Austin
Cah.reference@austin.utexas.edu
- Area historical cemeteries or findagrave.com.

Smithsonian Nineteen museums, nine research centers, affiliates around the world.

Where can I get photographs?

- Prints and Photographs Online Catalog - www.loc.gov/pictures
Catalogs about half of the Library's pictorial holdings with over 1 million digital images at Library of Congress

- Digital Public Library of America (7,793,304 items from libraries, archives, and museums) dp.la

What about vital statistics?

- Family Search – free official Genealogy site of the Latter Day Saints (Mormons)
- www.familysearch.org
- Top 10 US Databases for Tracing Your (or others) Family Tree
